6. Plan Implementation

Introduction

The Boerne Master Plan sets forth a vision to guide how the City could and should grow during the next 20 years, and beyond. With this vision now in place, the community must mobilize its resources towards plan implementation which is the most important part of any planning process.

While the previous chapters of the Plan discuss how to reach the desired vision, goals, objectives, and actions, this chapter identifies what the main priorities are and who is in charge of them. It is through the process of implementation that actions get translated into specific policies, operational changes, financial investments (e.g., capital improvements), further studies and new regulation.

Partnering for Success

Implementation, even more so than the planning process, will take coordinated effort from many community leaders, from individual residents to appointed and elected officials to outside agencies and entities. Increasingly, jurisdictions are recognizing that ultimate success includes a combination of City and non-City partners, including elected and appointed officials, staff, citizens and property and business owners, among others. This also includes the acknowledgment that the City has a responsibility to partner with all local, state and federal public and private partners that can be of assistance in improving Boerne today and in the future. Some of these partners include:

- Boerne elected and appointed officials;
- City Administration and staff;
- Boerne Kendall County Economic Development Corporation (BKCEDC);
- Kendall County;
- Texas Department of Transportation;
- Boerne Chamber of Commerce;
- Boerne Independent School District (BISD);
- Adjacent local cities (on projects that benefit both jurisdictions);
- Additional affected agencies and entities; and
- Area property and business owners and the development community.

Implementation Action Plan

Chapter 5, Future Directions, laid out policies and detailed implementation actions that can be accomplished at any point over the 10-year horizon of this Plan. This chapter contains background information, analysis, and guidance as to how these actions could be implemented over time.

This part of the Plan is intended to take those actions which could happen at any time over a 10-year plan horizon and prioritize them to identify what the most important actions are and the order in which the City intends to implement them. Actions are prioritized in Figure 6.2, Implementation Action Plan, into one of three different Initiation time frames; short-term (next 1-2 years), mid-term (3-5 years), and long-term (6-10+ years). Those actions which will be on-going once initiated are marked as such. Short and mid-term actions are ranked while longer-term actions would be re-evaluated and ranked during the five-year Plan update. The Implementation Action Plan also includes guidance as to the entities that should be involved in implementation (with the leading entity listed first) and what kind of action it would involve, including policies, operational changes, financial investments, studies, or regulations (see Figure 6.1, Implementation Tools, below, for a further description of the types of actions involved).

IMPLEMENTATION TOOLS

It is oftentimes noted that planning is the easy part while implementation is the more challenging part. As such, successful implementation of the Boerne Master Plan will take coordination, innovation, and hard work on the part of the City and area partners. As detailed in this Plan, the objectives and actions will be accomplished using the categories of tools listed in Figure 6.1, Implementation Tools.

Plan Administration

IMPLEMENTATION ROLES & RESPONSIBILITIES

While implementation of this Plan will involve the efforts of the whole community of Boerne, the City and its elected and appointed officials and staff will play a strategic part by initiating and managing the work of others. Therefore, the subsequent City entities will play a main role in these implementation efforts:

City Council

Through strategic direction meetings, yearly budgeting and further related decision making, the City Council establishes overall action priorities and time frames by which each action will be begun and finished. In some cases, they offer specific direction to the Planning and Zoning Commission, the Administration and City staff.

Planning and Zoning Commission

The Planning and Zoning Commission is designated as an advisory board to the City Council and tasked with making recommendations connected to the development and redevelopment of the City and its environs. It mainly accomplishes this through its communication with the rezoning and development process. Building upon this, the Planning and Zoning Commission should consider taking more of an ownership role of the implementation of this Plan. This could consist of preparing (in conjunction with City staff) an yearly report of progress and recommendations as to the subsequent years' action plan. In addition, the Planning and Zoning Commission needs to ensure that each of their choices are in-line with the vision, goals, objectives and action policies of this Plan.

Boerne Kendall County Economic Development Corporation (BKCEDC)

The EDC is a non-profit corporation formed under Chapters 501-505 of the Texas Local Government Code. Its main mission is the retention, development and attraction of business and industry in the City. They also work to improve overall quality of life for the City. In other words, it does all it can to foster a solid and long-lasting economy in Boerne, whether it is through growing current businesses, attracting new ones, building a strong workforce and even supporting the growth and revitalization of the City's economic core - Downtown Boerne. In this regard, the BKCEDC is an important strategic partner in implementing the vision, policies and actions of this Plan.

Administration and City Staff

As the executive branch of City government, the Administration and its staff are the technical experts and primary entity responsible for administering this Plan. To varying degrees, several City departments (e.g., Planning & Community Development, Public Works, etc.) have work programs which are vital to the success of this Plan and should ensure that their yearly work programs and budgets are reflective of the vision established by the residents.

CONTINUING EDUCATION

The Master Plan covers a wide variety of technical topics which affect numerous operations of City government. It includes background information on existing conditions, analysis of issues and alternatives and provides direction as to an appropriate course of action to move forward. For those that were not as closely involved in the process, it is important to convey not only the actions for moving forward, but also the reasons behind them. As such, it is important to educate appropriate elected and appointed officials on the strategic directions of the Plan.

It is also important to provide education to those who are not part of the City government, including property and business owners, the development community and the general public. Education should, at minimum, consist of a City webpage devoted specifically to implementation of the Plan. The intent of this webpage is to generate a solid groundwork / connection among proactive planning and the City's wherewithal to follow through with implementation. This page should include a PDF of the Plan itself, the vision statement and guiding values, details on the near-term action plan, a list of Plan-identified projects presently being implemented, yearly reports of progress and accomplishments and details on opportunities to become involved.

IMPLEMENTATION FUNDING

Between the City government and the EDC, there are a variety of actions that can be taken to implement this Plan. These include, but are not restricted to, offering economic incentives (for relocation, growth of workforce, site and building improvement, etc.), a fair and effective regulatory environment, well-timed capital improvements and public/private partnerships. Funding, consequently, becomes an important part of many of these actions. Funding for implementing the Plan will come from a variety of sources, including local resources such as the general fund (which is supported by property and sales taxes); voter-approved bonds; federal, state and other grants; among other sources.

PLAN AMENDMENT

Although this Plan was based on a detailed analysis of existing conditions and an intense public engagement program, it still just reflects a snapshot in time. To be achievable, implementation must continue to be flexible and allow adjustment to accommodate changes in local and national social, economic, physical and political changes over time. Therefore, it is recommended that the Plan be revisited on a regular and routine basis followed by warranted updates.

- Annual Progress Report. As a part of their work program, the Planning and Zoning Commission should prepare an yearly report for submittal and discussion with the City Council. Status of implementation for the Master Plan should be included in these yearly reports. Important actions and accomplishments in the past year should be recognized, in addition to identification and recommendations for needed actions and programs to be created and implemented in the coming year. This should be coordinated with the City's yearly budget development process so that the recommendations will be available early in the budgeting process.
- Annual Updates. After the yearly progress report is prepared, the Implementation Action Plan should be updated as part of a yearly Plan amendment. The Implementation Action Plan update, or near-term work program, identifies near- and mid-term actions to be started in the next year or shortly afterward. Yearly Plan amendments also provide opportunities for relatively minor Plan updates and revisions, including changes to the Future Land Use, Thoroughfare Plan and Trail Plan maps.
- Five-Year Update. Every five years, a broader evaluation and update should be prepared. This is usually more staff driven through input from several departments and elected and appointed officials. Led by the Planning & Community Development Department, this update includes a review of the present plan to evaluate its accomplishments and shortcomings with regard to implementation of the vision, goals and objectives. The purpose is to determine if the remaining proposed actions are still relevant. The update should consist of the following:
 - » A summary of Plan amendments and accomplishments to date;
 - » Changes in trends and issues since the previous Plan adoption (e.g., changes in the projected growth rate and the physical limits of the City; demographic composition; public attitudes; or other social, environmental or political issues which may affect the feasibility of implementation);
 - » Conflicts between decisions made and implementation actions yet to be undertaken;
 - » Changes in law, procedures or programs which will affect identified implementation actions; and
 - » A comprehensive re-evaluation of the Implementation Action Plan.
- 10-Year Update. The Master Plan sets the stage for all subsequent implementation actions in the 10-year planning horizon. Conditions, population composition and City trends and concerns change over time. To ensure that the Master Plan continues to provide the best and most appropriate direction possible, the Plan should be taken through a full update process every 10 years.
